CANAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

Speedily Passed the House and is Sent to the Senate.

No Sympathy in Congress for the Attempted New Territory the Isle of Pines.

[Special to THE REPUBLICAN.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 12, 1905.
The fact that the Panama Canal Bill went so speedily through the House does not necessarily argue so well for its reception in the Senate. Of course the bill is going to pass, but there is likely to be any amount of exorbitant delay and the Senators who have a grudge against the President and who are covertly against the canal itself will have a fine opportunity to vent their spleen. The reduction of the appropriation in the House from $16,500,000 to $11,000,000 was a more or less childish piece of spite work. Everyone knows that the canal is going to cost more than the estimated amount no matter what type is finally selected and whatever it cost, it will be cheap at the price. But the reduction of five and a half million in the immediate appropriation will have no effect on ultimate cost and will merely engender a certain amount of friction and make the canal workers feel that they are being treated grudgingly without helping the cause of economy a particle. The commission according to present calculations, has enough money to meet the payroll on Dec. 15, but the appropriation bill will have to go through in time for the payment on Dec. 30th. Both the House and the Senate know this. They know also that they will have to dig into the national treasury several times before the job is completed but they know also that it will be completed in spite of all opposition, so it would be just as well for them to submit gracefully.

The reports of the Bureau of Commerce and Labor shows that the international trade of the country is picking up again both in imports and exports. The first is gratifying as it indicates increased custom receipts and a corresponding diminution of the deficit and the second because it shows expanding manufacturing interest at home.

The outlook for the new territorial delegate who it is announced is coming to Congress from the Isle of Pines does not promise to be very bright. Congressmen particularly those of the Foreign Relations committee of the House and senate are quite prepared for his appearance and the door keeper has already been given a tip that he is not to be allowed the privilege of the floor. Speaker Cannon is as a caustic old party, even to the verge of looseness in conversation and when asked what would be the status of the expectant delegate replied that it would be just about the same as that of the wild man of Borneo if he should put in an appearance. When it was suggested that a resolution had already been prepared for his recognition the Speaker assented gravely with the remark, "Yes and you could put in a resolution for the resurrection of St. Paul too." He did not say what he thought would be the outcome of a resolution of that sort but it was evident he thought it would have about the same effect as a resolution for the recognition of the delegate from the Isle of Pines.

The departure of the Japanese Minister from Washington will it is understood be followed by the appointment of Baron Kaneko to that post. It has not yet been officially announced that Mr. Takehira will not return but it is pretty generally understood. Baron Kaneko was in this country last summer during the progress of the peace negotiations at Portsmouth and while he was not officially connected with the mission, it is understood that he really was the direct representative of the Mikado and that all of his several calls at Oyster Bay were connected with phases of the negotiations that could not very well be made public.

Presented in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Washington, Dec. 11. The question of jurisdiction in the case of Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the murder of William Goebel of Kentucky in 1900 were to-day presented to the Supreme Court of the United States in the form of a motion for leave to file a petition for writ of mandamus, commanding United States Judge A. M. J. Cochran of the Eastern District of Kentucky to remand the case to the Kentucky State courts and restore Powers to the custody of the Sheriff of Scott county, where Powers' fourth trial was about to begin when Judge Cochran's court took jurisdiction.

The motion was presented on behalf of the State of Kentucky by the Hon. Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., Attorney General Hays of Kentucky was presented in the court room, as were ex-Governor Richard Yates, of Illinois and Attorneys J. C. Sims, E. L. Worthington and H. Clay Howard. Governor Yates presented a petition for the dismissal of the appeal in the same case. Both parties asked the Court to hear the motions on January 15, but the Court refused to fix any date.

Death of Mrs. Harber B. Taylor.

At an early hour last Monday morning Mrs. Octavia Taylor wife of Harber B. Taylor, died at her home in the Liberty neighborhood after a few days illness of pneumonia. After funeral services conducted by Rev. J. A. Lewis, her pastor, her remains were interred in the Liberty burying ground in the presence of a host of grief stricken relatives and friends. Mrs. Taylor had been a consistent member of the Methodist church for fifty years having become a member at twenty-three years of age and the vacancy caused by her death will be sadly noted by the remainder of the church. She is survived by a husband and one daughter, Mrs. S. T. Stevens, of Hartford, and five sons, C. M. Taylor and H. B. Taylor, Beaver Dam; Lee Taylor, Liberty; Shelby Taylor, Crawley, La., and A. C. Morton and is one of Hartford's most attractive and highly esteemed young ladies.

Rev. Stevens is a son of the late S. T. Stevens and is quite a favorite with his many friends. He is at present a student at the Georgetown School of Theology from which he will soon graduate. He has a bright and promising future.

NO THREATS OR FORCE

To be Used by the Dark Tobacco Growers to Secure Their Demands.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 11.—The Christian County Executive Committee of the Dark District Tobacco Planters' Protective Association held an important and largely attended meeting at the courthouse here today. It was the unanimous expression of the committeemen that the business of the association should be conducted strictly in accordance with law and order. The extreme resolutions adopted in several other counties and the boycott measures practiced were earnestly deprecated.

Charles E. Baker, Vice-President of the association, addressed the meeting and said that the District Executive Committee would not countenance disorder or intimidation on the part of any member of the association and that while legitimate and decent means would be used to get farmers to enter the organization, threats or force to secure members must not be attempted.

Riley-Amerine.

Mr. Wallace H. Riley will be united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Geneva Amerine at the home of her cousin, William Baumstark, in Georgetown, at 8:00 o'clock on the evening of December 23, 1905. Rev. Chester Stevens will be the officiating clergyman. The wedding will be private, only a few intimate friends of the bride and groom being present.

Mr. Riley is a son of John C. Riley, Cashier of the First National Bank, of Hartford and local capitalist. Though yet a young man of 21, he has charge of the large Flouring Mill of the Hartford Mill Co. Except for the time he was a student in Georgetown college, his life has been spent in Hartford where he is known for many manly qualities. He is energetic, upright and cultured to refinement. His temperament and opportunities unite in guaranteeing to him a life of usefulness and promise.

Miss Amerine is intelligent, educated and adorned by the elegant refinement of Georgetown society where her beauty and amiableness have united in making her a favorite.

The young couple will be at home to their friends in Hartford after December 25, 1905.

From Concord Local A. S. of E. EDITOR REPUBLICAN:

As I have not seen anything from this part of the county, I take this method of letting your readers know that we are still in the fight for liberty and propose to stand until the battle is won. Our local was organized January 1st, 1905, by F. W. Pirtle with ten members and we now have thirty-eight. Though we be few in number we are strong in the faith and we propose to pool our tobacco and if every farmer would do this it would be but a short while until we would get equitable prices for all farm products. When a tobacco buyer comes to your barn and offers two eights and two for your tobacco you can just stamp it down there and then that he is trying to buy your principals and not your tobacco I had just as soon sell my vote on election day as to sell my tobacco to the trust for if I would sell my vote I could take the money home and give it to my wife and children and if I sell my tobacco to the trust by the time they got through docking it and I paid the expenses there would be nothing left for my wife and children. I would suggest to the farmers to fall in line and help to win this great victory. Let every one ask himself the question is there anything I can do and I feel sure that your conscience will answer yes and it is time you was at it. He that is not for us is against us. I heartily endorse what Brother Moreland said in the last issue of THE REPUBLICAN. I would not sell a man stock that would not stand up for his neighbors. If he is for self let him and self have it. I long to see the time when just such men will be put out of business most especial if he is a member of the A. S. of E.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Closed Last Saturday After a Very Successful Meeting.

The Ohio county teachers institute which began last Tuesday and closed Saturday proved to be one of the very best in the history of the county. Dr. Kinnaman the instructor proved to a star in the institute work and on his departure left among Ohio county teachers hosts of ardent admirers.

One hundred and sixteen teachers enrolled which was only a few less than last year's attendance. The teachers generally were well prepared on work assigned them and responded with excellent papers and addresses. A quite nice and much enjoyed feature of the institute was the Commencement exercises for the conferring of degrees upon a class of 122 graduates of the public schools of Ohio county. Superintendent of Public Instruction, Jas. H. Fuqua, Frankfort, Ky., was present and made a most excellent address conferring the degree. After which he delivered the diplomas.

CUBAN MINISTER TO THE U. S. Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Senor Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States.

Senor Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States, is an orator born. In an article in The Outlook for July, 1899, by George Kennan, who heard Quesada speak at the Estaban Theater, Mantanzas, Cuba, he said: "I have seen many audiences under the spell of eloquent speech and in the grip of strong emotional exuberance; but I have rarely witnessed such a scene as at the close of Quesada's eulogy upon the dead patriot, Marti." In a letter to The Peruna Medicine Company, written from Washington, D. C., Senor Quesada says:

"Peruna I can recommend as a very good medicine. It is an excellent strengthening tonic, and it is also an efficacious cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."—Gonzalo De Quesada.

Congressman J. H. Bankhead, of Alabama, one of the most influential members of the House of Representatives, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., gives his endorsement to the great catarrh remedy, Peruna, in the following words:

"Your Peruna is one of the best medicines I ever tried, and no family should be without your remarkable remedy. As a tonic and catarrh cure I know of nothing better."—J. H. Bankhead.

There is but a single medicine which is a radical specific for catarrh. It is Peruna, which has stood a half century test and cured thousands of cases.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. All correspondence strictly confidential.

GHOST OF A MINER

Points Out a Hidden Lode of Gold and Enriches a Grandson.

Bringing a bottle of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, a pure gold, taken from a lode long hidden in the mountain fastnesses not far from here, W. E. Bartlett and M. C. Black, both well known business men, are back after a perilous trip to the Cascades. Their, however, was labor richly rewarded though the story is so interwoven with Spiritualism and romance that it is well nigh incredible. Bartlett is the grandson of D. E. Ingels, a miner of the early fifties in these parts, who was murdered in the hills by his partner. The Bartlett family are spiritualists, and Bartlett declares his dead and murdered grandfather, through a Portland medium sent word to him to find the lost mine and he would be independent for life.

Bartlett who is the proprietor of the Pacific House here, swears positively that he received specific directions from the spirit of his grandfather how to proceed to the lost mine. Moreover, he was told to select M. C. Black, a secondhand dealer here, to accompany him. The men will not tell of the location of their find, but say it cannot be reached save by making an extremely dangerous trip and one filled with hardship, especially at this time of the year, when the mountains are firmly in winter's icy grasp. In the the spring they will return and develop their find.

In a rough and mountainous section they say they found a gray quartz ledge, literally filled with precious metal. Small pieces were broken off, pounded up in a frying pan which they had with them and the gold picked out by the men's fingers and placed into a bottle. Should the ledge prove as rich as the samples a man could make a mortar and gold pan, and in a week's time take out enough of the gold to make him wealthy. The country where the ledge is located is wild and precipitous, and during the stay of the men the snow was falling heavily and they remained only long enough to satisfy themselves of the location of the ledge.

As evidence of their find they have the little bottle of gold dust, which has already been viewed by dozens of people and tests have been made by O. D. Johnson which prove that the mineral is genuine.

But the find is not so marvelous as the manner in which it was made and the tale runs like a fairy story.

D. E. Ingels, the grandfather of Mr. Bartlett, was a pioneer prospector. He was one of the early Forty-Niners of California, and in company with eight others drifted into this section in 1846.

Alone he made a find in the mountains adjacent to Wenatchee which he considered the greatest discovery of his life. In making a trip into the mountains he was murdered by a companion named Jack Knot, and the body lies buried 25 miles up the east side of the Columbia River from Wenatchee. To the members of his family he had confided the great secret has been kept as an heirloom ever since.

The members of the Bartlett family are Spiritualists, and last summer the dead grandfather, through a Portland medium revealed the whereabouts of the gold to the grandson. Minute directions as to its location were given, and final disposition of the profits of the find were made. M. C. Black was selected by the spirit of the grandfather to accompany his grandson in the search. Mr. Black consented to go, and the journey proved to be, a perilous one, but so minute had been the direction given that the rich find was made with but little search. In this connection it might be added that the man D. C. Ingels was shot down by his companion, Jack Knot, at a place just above where the town of Cashmere now stands. He was not instantly killed, but was brought down the river near the present site of Wenatchee. He lived about 24 hours after being shot and his remains were interred 2 1/2 miles up the Columbia from Wenatchee. The family had made diligent search for the body and supposed it had been buried in Southern Oregon.

Not until last summer was the resting place finally revealed by a medium. Mr. Bartlett came here as directed and found parties who had known the grandfather and knew of the circumstances of his death and the place of burial.

BIG FISH

Stopped a Hole in a Steamer's Bottom and Prevented a Disaster.

New York, Dec. 9. Six eels and one large flounder became so tightly jammed in a hole that had been stove in the bottom of the Scandinavian liner Hellig Olaf near Copenhagen, on November 6 last, that it was impossible for any more water to get into the hold of the ship until she was placed in dry dock at Helsingor the following day.

The fish were handed over to Captain Holst after they had been removed from the hole and the Captain had them for breakfast the next day.

The Hellig Olaf arrived in port to-day and Captain Holst told of the remarkable way in which his vessel had been saved.

Sixteen feet of water was in the hold when the fish became lodged in the hole, but the pumps took care of that.

CONTROLLED MARKETING

Urged as Means of Raising Price of Farm Products by A. S. of E.

The following resolutions were passed by The American Society of Equity at its Annual Meeting at Indianapolis, Ind., October 23-25, 1905 delegates from nineteen States and territories being in attendance:

Whereas, Controlled Marketing to compel profitable prices for farm products, is admitted, by all fair minded people, who have gone to the trouble to thoroughly investigate to be sound, and

Whereas, The plans of the American Society of Equity to put controlled Marketing into effect have been demonstrated to be sufficient; and

Whereas, We believe all that is necessary to compel profitable and equitable prices for all crops is control of a large portion of all our crops by the plan advocated by the American Society of Equity:

Therefore, Be it Resolved:

First. That all farm papers be requested to help teach the plan.

Second. That it be taught at all farmers' institutes.

Third. That it be incorporated in all farmers' organizations.

Fourth. That the Department of Agriculture lend their assistance to teach the plan to farmers through bulletins and the Year Book of the Department of Agriculture.

Fifth. That State Board of Agriculture in all states, wherein organizations of this society has been effected be asked to make controlled marketing a special feature of their work.

Sixth. That a sufficient number of copies of these resolutions be printed so that they may be placed in the hands of all delegates and sent to all farm papers and officers of farmers' institutes with the request for their co-operation, the penalty for refusal being that the papers and institutes will hereafter be denied the interested farmers' support. Also copies to be sent to the Department of Agriculture and all known farmers' societies.

Respectfully submitted: W. G. Scott, Minnesota; A. B. Peters, Missouri; V. A. Claburn, Alabama; A. K. Fineout, Michigan; P. Anthony, Virginia.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

I. C. Placing New Locomotives.

Sixty of the most powerful of modern locomotives are now being received by the Illinois Central railroad for service on the Chicago-St. Paul Chicago-Omaha and Chicago-New Orleans line. Fifty of the engines will be equally divided between the passenger and freight departments, and ten will be used for the switching service. The passenger engines are of the Pacific type. They are guaranteed to cover 75 to 90 miles an hour, and one of them will be used to pull the Illinois Central's new "Cuban special," the new 23 hours train between Chicago and New Orleans that will go into service Dec. 26 in connection with the sterner Prince Arthur to Havana.

Status of Next Legislature.

In the organization of the next Kentucky General Assembly there will be in the senate thirty-one Democrats and seven Republicans. In the house there will be seventy-four Democrats and twenty-six Republicans.

There will be 105 votes in the joint Democratic caucus, and fifty-three votes will constitute a majority.

As usual, there are several duplicate names in the house although there is only one Jones and one Smith. There are two Coles - W. H. Cole, of Allen and H. K. Cole, of Danan we know. He's been very active and entirely sincere in all the movement to better the condition of the farming, classes, and being himself a farmer, he is well up on the ill that beset them. Without the slightest intimation upon his part that he has such aspirations, it is a fact that there are hundreds of his personal friends all over Hancock county who will never be satisfied until they help put this most pleasant and agreeable gentleman in congress.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 15.

It seems that Uncle Sam might as well set his house in order for a few more States.

It is suggested that Senator La Follette might like to telegraph his vote to Washington, when anything important comes up.

It was discovered five days after President Roosevelt transmitted his annual message to Congress that he had omitted to comment on the one great question of the day, the Christmas present question.

If reports are true the county's $16,000 pike from Hartford to Beaver Dam is becoming quite delapidated from excessive use without repair and will, if something is not done for it soon, be almost beyond repair. Parties who have heretofore assumed supervision of this, the county's only pike road, have by their inaction, signified their intention to let it go unattended and unrepaired. It seems to us to be the height of folly to let a $16,000, piece of public property go to ruin when $500 spent on it at the proper time would save it. A little less extravagance in the iron bridge business would have saved sufficient funds to properly repair and keep in good shape this property for which the county has spent so much and which seems now to be about to go to ruin for want of repair.

HOW UNGRATEFUL!

The announcement from Washington that W. G. Dearing, of Flemingsburg, would, about the first of next March, supersede Col. C. M. Barnett as Collector of Customs at Louisville, comes to the people of this, Mr. Barnett's home county, like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. Not only his fellow countymen, but the whole of Western Kentucky are indignant, and rightfully so at the utter disregard of the claims of Western Kentucky Republicans to some recognition in the distribution of federal patronage as well as merit and meritorious indorsement the men having control of Federal appointments defiantly thrust at them by the appointment, not only of an Eastern Kentucky man to succeed Mr. Barnett, but to fill every important Federal position in the State.

Of all the appointive Federal office holders in the State Mr. Barnett and Dr. A. D. James are the only two that are to lose their places, notwithstanding most of the others have, like them, been eight years in the service. Eight years is probably long enough for one to hold a Federal job, but if so, why was not the rule made absolute and all the eight year men removed? Certainly Mr. Barnett deserves to hold on as much as any of the rest. He has made an enviable record and has the indorsement not only of his party leaders, but the indorsement and recommendation of the hundreds of patrons of his office. "The Big Four," Congressmen Bennett and Edwards; Messrs. J. W. Yerkes and R. P. Ernst, supposed friends of Mr. Barnett, are the ones to whom this unjust discrimination is chargeable.

Of these four so-called referees, Bennett is probably pardonable for indorsing Mr. Dearing. But the other three, how ungrateful! Ernst Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, Edwards, Congressman from the Eleventh district and Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, whose sponsor and faithful supporter, Mr. Barnett has always been and who owe their very existence politically speaking in a great measure to Mr. Barnett and his friends, at the last hour, betrayed friendship's trust and the trust of every Republican in Western Kentucky and indorsed Dearing.

Who is this man Dearing anyway, and what claim he has on the Republican party that should entitle him to a $5,000 job at its hands? In terms of the Louisville Herald he is a Flemingsburg lawyer, whose only claims are, as far as known, that he quit the Democratic party because that party failed to give him office; that he has never since won an election, for the Republican party; although many a chance has been given him, that he has lost his practice and has to be provided for at the table of the grand, good-natured old party, which prefers, it is said, the convert of yesterday to the earnest brother that has kept the faith and fought the good fight from the beginning.

The ungratefulness of the quadriviate composed of Messrs. Yerkes, Ernst, Bennett and Edwards towards their staunch friend and supporter, Mr. Barnett, together with their defiance of Western Kentucky Republicans, in view of the fact, that Mr. Barnett's home county as well as many other counties in the Western part of the State, made much better showing in the recent election as compared with Eastern Kentucky, is beyond palliation and the sooner they are removed from the councils of the party the better it will be for Republicanism.

The farmers reward for his season's toil is certainly all that he could desire. Bountiful crop. Good prices, and fine weather to gather it in.

Farmers

We have a stock of General Merchandise that is commensurate with your luxuriant harvest. We have Merchandise that appeals strongly to the economical buyer, to the man who wants full value for every cent he spends. When you buy from us you don't have to worry about the price. We only have one, and that is on the Bed Rock Level. We sell you dependable stuff at a straight legitimate price. A boy can buy just as cheap as his father. Bring us some corn to get your winter supplies. You get the same price on what you buy with corn, as you do on what you buy with money.

Underwear.

The Underwear and Hosiery season is now fully on the way and we have outdone any former season along this line and are actually giving a better garment for the price than any one in this territory. Look, investigate the matter for yourselves. If your investigation don't prove what we have said, buy from the other fellow. We quote Men's Shirts and Drawers for 25c, 40c, 50c, $1 and $1.25 per garment. Boys' Shirts and Drawers, 25c and 50c per garment. Ladies' Vests and Pants, 25c, 50c and 75c each. Misses Union Suits 25c and 50c each. Infants Wrappers, 10c to 55c each.

Overcoats.

Suits and Overcoats than any store in the whole county. Buying in these quantities we get the best prices to be had. Buying at low prices we sell the same way, and there is no living soul that can sell you Overcoats and Suits at a less price than we quote. Why fool your time away running around. We have the variety, the style and the price.

Men's Overcoats, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $6.50, $8.00, $10.00 up to $15.
